MEMPHIS CINCHES SOUTHERN TITLE MAKING NEW MARK

(By Associated Press.)
Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 17.—The 1921 Southern Association season ended today with the Memphis club winner of the pennant. It carries the right to compete with the Fort Worth Club, Texas League pennant winners in the first official post season series between Class A leagues for the baseball championship of the south.

New Orleans finished in second place, seven and a half games behind Memphis. Birmingham third, Little Rock, last year's champs, fourth, Atlanta fifth, Nashville sixth, Mobile seventh and Chattanooga eighth.

Besides winning the league title the Memphis club set a precedent in the Southern Association by holding the leadership continually from the drop of the flag to the finish and established a record for number of games won, 104. The nearest approach to the record for games won was in 1917 when Atlanta ran up a string of 98 victories. It was the first pennant Memphis had won in seventeen years.

Seamen bearing bouquets sent from President and Cabinet. Reverently be placed one on each coffin. Sir Hugh Trenchard, commander of the Dauntless, then laid on wreaths from the British embassy, British air ministry and the crew of the British cruiser which had served as funeral ship. On the casket of Commander Louis H. Maxfield, who was to have had charge of the ZR-2 on her trans-Atlantic flight was a representation of the airship in English violets with a card inscribed: "A remembrance from your shipmates whom you left behind."

Catholic Service Also
Then Captain M. C. Gleason, Catholic chaplain, conducted the second service. Opposite him holding lighted candles were three blue jackets, youngsters scarcely eighteen.

"Nearer My God to Thee"—and then three volleys. A bugler sounded taps. The service was over.

When the yard had been emptied of visitors fifteen hearses drew up in front of the mess hall and the caskets were borne away to the naval hospital. Four bodies will be interred in Arlington, one that of Lieutenant Emory Coil will be buried at sea and the others will be turned over to the ministry of the king.

SMOOT WILL OFFER A TAX BILL OF HIS OWN MAKING

Utah Senator Has Prepared
What He Terms
Simplified Bill

COMMITTEE REFUSES IT

Calder's Liquor Tax Is Changed at the Last Moment

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Sept. 17.—The senate finance committee failed today to reach final decisions on the Smoot tax simplification embodying a manufacturer's sales levy and on Senator Calder's proposal to impose a tax of $6.40 a gallon on all alcoholic liquors withdrawn from bond for other than manufacturing purposes. The committee will meet again Monday.

Senator Smoot's bill was said to have been favorably received but several senators were represented as desiring a less complicated tax law than, in their judgment, would result from enactment of the amended house bill. The consensus of opinion still seemed to be, however, that the committee would reject the Smoot measure.

Reiterating that he would offer the bill in the senate the Utah senator said:

"We will see what will happen there."

The American Automobile Association came out today in favor of the manufacturer's tax proposal, an official statement from the association headquarters declaring that such a tax would "give to the business men of the country just what they themselves feel is needed to set in motion the wheels of industry that will give employment to more than 5,000,000 new idle men."

Senator Calder's whiskey amendment was discussed by the committee today and, according to the author and other members, was accepted in principle. The New York senator said he had been asked to redraft the amendment and present it again Monday as it was feared that as originally worded it might be construed to tax industrial alcohol.

KILBANE BEATS FRUSH TO FLOOR IN THE SEVENTH

(By Associated Press.)
Riverside, Cleveland, Sept. 17.—Johnny Kilbane, 32 years old, and gray haired, successfully defended his title of feather-weight champion of the world here today when he knocked out Danny Frush of Baltimore in the seventh round of their scheduled twelve-round fight before 22,000 persons.

The fight nearly ended in a riot in the first round when Kilbane kicked Frush in the groin in retaliation for a kick that Frush gave him. Frush's handlers claimed a foul but Referee Kelly refused to allow it. Frush writhed in agony on the floor and the referee ordered his handlers to take him to his corner. After ten seconds the fight was resumed and Frush was the aggressor, staggering Kilbane by a solid smash to the chin in the second, the only really effective blow he landed.

Kilbane, after boxing cautiously the first two rounds, opened up in the third and was master of the situation until the fifth. He floored Frush in the third with a right and left to the chin and drove him to the ropes repeatedly, but failed to put over the knockout punch. In the sixth Kilbane floored the challenger for the second time and the bell saved him from a knockout.

As the dazed and fast fading Frush came up for the seventh Kilbane tore into him knocking him flat with rights and lefts to the head. Frush took the count of nine and when he staggered to his feet went down again. He hung limply on the ropes when he came up and the champion showered him with rights and lefts to the head. Frush did to the floor his arms and legs outstretched and was counted out.

Fatty in Court For a
Brief Time on Formal
Plea

(By Associated Press.)
San Francisco, Sept. 17.—A missing witness in the Roscoe Arbuckle case, Dr. Arthur Beardslee, the hotel St. Francis physician, who treated Miss Virginia Rappe before her death, was located today, according to a telegram from the sheriff of Douglas county Nevada, at Minden.

Dr. Beardslee yesterday left Minden for Bridgeport, Mono county, Cal. on a hunting trip, according to the notification given District Attorney Brady who telegraphed to the Mono county sheriff to order Beardslee to proceed to San Francisco at once.

His testimony is expected to throw light on the condition of Miss Rappe the first day after the labor day party in Arbuckle's suite at the St. Francis from which her death resulted. Dr. Beardslee was wanted as a witness at the coroner's inquest but could not be located.

To Be Arraigned Thursday
Arbuckle's brief appearance in superior court today to obtain a continuance of manslaughter charges pending against him, completed his present schedule of trips outside the city prison until next Thursday when his preliminary examination on the murder complaint sworn to by Mrs. Maude Delmont, a member of the party in Arbuckle's rooms is set before Judge Lazarus.

Mrs. Mae Taube, another member of the party, was questioned today by Brady who said she had persisted in her original statement that she called Assistant Manager Boyle of the hotel on the telephone for assistance. At the inquest Mrs. Delmont said she, herself, did the telephoning. Brady said some important items of information were learned from Mrs. Taube and her statements might lead to taking up certain new phases of the case before the grand jury Monday night.

Manager Coleman, manager of the hotel St. Francis, and other executives and employees, were called before Robert McCormick assistant United States Attorney in charge of liquor prosecutions for questioning regarding the origin of 20 quarts of liquor said to have been consumed at Arbuckle's party.

Court Room Crowded
As on yesterday the little court room where Arbuckle appeared surrounded by his personal counsel and body guard, for he goes guarded now, was crowded. He appeared before an audience made up almost entirely of women. Judge Sylvan Lazarus' court is a woman's court. Ordinarily men are not admitted to this court unless relatives of theirs are on trial. Arbuckle's case was assigned to this court because his alleged victim was a woman.

The formality of the petition for continuance of the manslaughter charge over with Arbuckle was hustled out a rear entrance to his prison cell. There was evident slacking of curiosity to see the comedian and he went to his cell with some of the novelty of his position worn off.
